Debts of Former President Charged Frauds Were Perpetrated in New York City Through Holding Back Ballots Until Long After Hour for Opening of Polls—Taft Adherents Blame Court Injunctions for Delay on Part of Printers.

New York, March 27.—The Taft delegates for delegates to the Republican national convention won a sweeping victory over the Roosevelt men in the primary election.

This much is clear after a contest marked by the greatest confusion and a count much delayed. William Barnes, Jr., chairman of the Republican state committee and Taft's manager, announced that seven delegates to Roosevelt, out of the state's 90, the highest possible estimate in view of the returns.

Chairman Charles H. Duell of the Roosevelt city committee declared in the primaries, characterized by a complete breakdown of the election machinery, had been a farce. He asserted that an effort would be made by the Roosevelt committee to name "a real primary in this city as a full expression of Republican opinion."

Governor Dix should be called on to convene the legislature in special session," declared Duell in a statement, "for the purpose of enacting a presidential primary law that may be an honest expression of the wishes of the voters. In no way could Governor Dix meet the wishes of the people."

Chairman Duell's statement as to workings of the primary law was based in part upon the mixup in the distribution of the primary lists, which old campaigners said was the worst within memory here. Test Vote Lacks Three of Unseating Senator.

Washington, March 27.—The senate on a test vote lacked but three votes of adopting a resolution that would have unseated the oldest member of that body, Isaac Stephenson of Wisconsin. The test vote came on a resolution that had been offered by Senator Jones of Washington on behalf of the minority of the senate committee on privileges and elections, that reported on the Stephenson case. The resolution declared that Senator Stephenson was not duly and legally elected. The resolution received 27 votes, with 29 against it.

Washington, March 27.—The Roosevelt bureau issued a statement by Judge C. H. Duell, chairman of the New York City Roosevelt committee, as follows in regard to the New York city primaries:

More than one-half of the city ballots did not arrive at the polling places two hours after the opening of the polls. In several assembly districts the ballots did not arrive until after 7 o'clock at night. They were due at 3 o'clock in the afternoon. When the ballots were received, they were found to be

Steel Cars Save Many Lives In Twentieth Century Crash

Photos by American Press Association.

IX serious accidents have occurred in the last few weeks to the fast trains running between New York and Chicago. The latest was the derailing of the Twentieth Century limited of the New York Central near Poughkeepsie while it was running at a high rate of speed. Five coaches were thrown into the Hudson river, at that point covered with ice, and twenty-eight passengers, many of them still in their berths—it was about 9 a.m.—were injured. Railroad men say that it was almost a miracle that no one was killed, but attribute the passengers' escape from death to the fact that the steel coaches, in spite of the terrific crash, were scarcely damaged. With the old fashioned wooden cars the loss of life would undoubtedly have been appalling. The arrow in the upper illustration indicates the position of the broken rail which caused the accident.

WILL INHIBIT SINGLE TAX

Also Classification of Property For Taxation Purposes—Will Most Likely Provide for Indirect Initiative on All Save Constitutional Questions—Referendum to Be on 6 Per Cent Basis—Pettit Says Bigelow Has "Monumental Egotism."

Columbus, O., March 27.—Settlement of the vexed initiative and referendum proposal is nearer than it has been since the constitutional convention took up the question. Friends of the initiative and referendum are rewriting the Crosser proposal and framing compromises which will meet the objections that have been pressed on the floor in debate. They feel sure of a majority when the work is finished.

During the long-drawn-out debate nearly a dozen members slipped away to a quiet room for work. Although this conference is believed to have been carried on with the full approval of President Bigelow, he did not take part.

Though details of the compromise under way are lacking, there is strong reason for believing that the proposal will contain an inhibition against the use of the initiative to secure either classification of property or single tax. The reason for the inhibition against both is that the radical I and R men have been loud in their assertions that the men who insisted on putting in an inhibition against single tax are trying to get classification.

Delighted With Victory.

The inhibition against classification is an attempt at reprisal. It is understood on good authority that the proposers of the anti-single tax amendment are willing that classification should be inhibited. They are delighted with the victory won against the single tax.

The compromise is likely to provide for indirect initiative on all save constitutional amendments, which may be presented for action of the voters on petition of 12 per cent of the electors. Indirect initiative is to require 8 per cent on constitutional amendments and 6 per cent on laws. The referendum is to be on 6 per cent petition.

The debate on the floor of the convention was enlivened before adjournment by Delegate Pettit of Adams, who attacked President Bigelow for alleged coercion of members. He said the president suffers from "monumental egotism."

MEAT PACKERS FINALLY CLEARED

Cleared of Conspiracy Charge After Nine-Year Fight.

Chicago, March 27.—After 19 hours' deliberation, the jury that has for 15 weeks been trying the government's case against the Chicago packers on a charge of conspiring to control the meat industry of the country, returned a verdict of "not guilty." The defendants acquitted were: Louis F. Swift, Edward F. Swift, Charles H. Swift, Francis A. Fowler of the Swift group; J. Ogden Armour, Arthur Meeker, Thomas J. Connors of the Armour group; Edward Morris and Louis H. Heyman of the Morris group; Edward Tilden, head of the National Packing company.

J. H. Edwards of Streator, one of the jurors, discussing the proceedings in the jury room, said: "The reason on which the acquittal was based was that we gave the defendants the benefit of the doubt. We did not believe the government had made out a strong case. The people had not suffered and we could not see our way clear to convict the defendants under the evidence presented."

The government's case against the packers was started nine years ago.

Coincidentally, though the packers say this angle had nothing to do with the verdict, the price of live stock went soaring at the yards and prices for the dressed product were advanced. Hog prices went to the high point of the year and cattle were considerably higher. The packers, however, insist that supply and demand causes—scarcity in the eastern markets and the approach of the Easter season—were responsible for the advance in both markets.

Huffman Jury Sent to Bed When Unable to Agree.

Columbus, O., March 27.—The jury in the Huffman bribery case resumed its deliberations this morning. The members deliberated six hours last evening and were then sent to bed at the Southern hotel by Judge Dillon.

Senator Huffman's attorneys were encouraged to hope for a favorable verdict or disagreement as a result of the jury's long session without result.

In the arguments attorneys for both sides were exceedingly bitter. Detective Smiley was called a thief and murderer by Senator Huffman's counsel. State lawyers called senators who testified in support of the alibi defense perjurers.

Generals Aubert, Villa and Urbina Make Detour and Attempt to Take Jiminez, but Insurgent Leaders Thwart Move—Pascual Orozco Arrives From Chihuahua and Takes Personal Command of Rebel Army. Fall of Jiminez Reported.

Jiminez, Mexico, March 27.—The rebels continue to hold all the territory where the fighting with the federal command of General Blanquet took place, but are now confronted by a new fighting force under command of Generals Truzy, Aubert, Pancho Villa and Tomas Urbina.

The federal rout was complete for the time, but the rebels are fighting a new band of federals and reinforced by General Tellez and his command. The defeated federals are expected to rally and return to the fray, thus making it a general engagement and a decisive battle. The fighting is not considered ended by any means, but the advantage is slightly with the rebels.

The federals managed to break through the rebel rear guard and effect their retreat. The rebels held the field at Corralitos and still hold it. Their men are riding at will over the country three miles south of where the fighting occurred. The field is strewn with federal dead.

The rebels also lost heavily, especially in the last desperate effort of the federals when they broke through and retreated.

The forces of Generals Aubert, Pancho Villa and Urbina, which came from the direction of Cerro Gordo, instead of attempting to attack the rebels at Corralitos veered to the northeast and headed for Jiminez. Still holding the field around Corralitos, from whence the federals retreated, the rebels drew back 500 of their men to Jiminez to withstand the assault of the Aubert-Villa command. The fighting between these commands and the rebels opened at Hacienda Dolores, southwest of Jiminez. General Pascual Orozco had come from Chihuahua with his force and took personal charge of the rebel army.

Came Up From Rear.

It was evidently the plan of Aubert to get in behind the rebels while the fighting was going on at Corralitos and cut them off from their base of supplies, but this failed when the rebels got reinforcements from Jiminez, from Chihuahua and by drawing back part of their men from Corralitos after the Salas-Blanquet command had retreated.

A body of about 200 federal tried a flank movement toward the south, presumably to cut off Campa at Relano and keep him from coming up from Corralitos to Jiminez. This was forestalled by heavy artillery fire on the part of the rebels.

When fighting stopped below Corralitos the federals fell back near Escalon. The fatalities were smaller than reported, according to the best information.

Harry Wyatt, rural mail carrier on Route No. 9, out of this city, met with an experience Tuesday which for a time threatened to result seriously to him, when an automobile, Mr. Wyatt claims, driven by George Ghormley of near Good Hope, frightened his horse, causing it to wreck the mail wagon and threaten him with serious injury or death.

Mr. Wyatt was driving along near the Langdon residence three miles south of this city on the Good Hope pike, when the automobile came in view, hurling mud and water to either side of the road. The machine was traveling at good speed, and although the postman pulled over to the road side, the flying mud and water from the fast traveling machine caused it to whirl about in the road, crushing both front wagon to be seen.

It's Your Duty to Get at the Cause and Remove It. A Word to the Wise, You Know.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, will positively do the work.

People afflicted with bad breath find quick relief through Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The pleasant sugar-coated tablets are taken for bad breath by all who know them.

Olive Tablets act gently but firmly on the bowels and liver, stimulating them to natural action, clearing the blood and gently purifying the entire system of impurities.

They do all that dangerous calomel does without any of the bad after effects.

All the benefits of nasty, sickening, griping cathartics are derived from Olive Tablets without griping, pain or disagreeable effects of any kind.

Dr. F. M. Edwards discovered the formula after seventeen years of practice among patients afflicted with bowel and liver complaint with the attendant bad breath.

Olive tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil.

Try Olive Tablets today. Take one every night for a week and note the effect.

"Every little Olive Tablet has a movement all its own."

Neckties

Are Made of Wood

Car wheels made of paper, and straw mattings of wood, but the latest marvel, and one to which little or no attention has been called, is the fact that an Eastern genius has discovered and perfected a process by which wood has been converted into knit neckties; not ordinary rough, uncouth ties, but ties of bright and brilliant hues; pretty, attractive ties, full of fashion, soft and pliable. So, when you see young man or one of our Washington girls with a new tie, ask them: "Is that your new wooden tie?"

Katz is now showing red, white, blue, brown, tan, gray, black and fancy striped, at a quarter.

Report Unfounded School Continues

A member of the Bloomingburg Board of Education states that the report has been circulated that owing to the Smith one per cent law causing a great shortage in funds, the Bloomingburg high school would be discontinued next year, and brands the whole report as false.

He states that the Bloomingburg High school, which is second grade, will continue better than ever, and that the funds will be sufficient to meet the expenses of conducting the school.

At present the Bloomingburg schools have an enrollment of 215 pupils, and all grades are in exceptionally good condition, with a splendid corps of teachers, and one of the best small town school buildings in the country which was completed two years ago at a cost of over $15,000.

Third Week Of Grace Church Meetings

Grace church is in the third week of a successful series of meetings, conducted by the pastor, Rev. T. W. Locke.

The meetings have been full of interest and very helpful to the membership of the church, stirring to life fresh ardor. There have been a number of accessions, a class of seven taken in Sunday morning and others in readiness.

This evening's service will be held at 7:30 and there will be special music.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

Editor Herald:

As there seems to be some confusion as to the real identity of the gentleman running for the nomination for county surveyor, it is proper to say here that it is Bert R. Jacobs, son of D. R. Jacobs. Notwithstanding a similarity of names, identification should be easy; the candidate is the younger of the two; the younger man's hair is black, that of the older, perfectly white. The younger man weighs 140 pounds; the older tips the scale at 200.

Another Receiver For the D. T. & I.

There is an unconfirmed rumor afloat that George P. Johnson, general superintendent of the Norfolk & Western railroad, is to be made receiver of the Detroit, Toledo & Ironton.

At present the road has three receivers, and has had since 1908, each receiver representing certain interests in the property, although Eugene Zimmerman of Detroit is the controlling factor.

It is claimed that a New York banking house is making negotiations to take over the property, appoint a receiver and place the road in good condition.

BILL HALF A LAW

Commons Gets Busy After Miners and Operators Split.

London, March 27. Following the complete breakdown of the negotiations between the mine owners and miners for a settlement of the coal strike, the government called up the coal bill in the house of commons.

It was adopted by a large majority in the early hours this morning after several hours' discussion. The government steadily adhered to its refusal to insert the 5 and 2 shillings minimum notwithstanding the pressure of the Laborite and advanced Radical members.

The bill will be pushed through the house of lords by special arrangement with the Unionist leaders and will receive the royal assent some time today.

It is still impossible to say how far the measure will operate in affecting the main object of starting again the mining and other industries which have been closed down by the strike.

CAN EXAMINE FLOUR

Defense Gains Point In Hall Trial at Lancaster.

Lancaster, O., March 27.—At the session of the trial of Mrs. Nancy Hall, accused of poisoning her daughter Ruth, 12, the prosecution consented to let the defense analyze samples of the pancake flour in which the state's experts claim to have found arsenic.

The defense will claim that they can account for every move of the defendant after she bought the arsenic, and that she had no chance to mix it with the pancake flour unless she arose at night. To do this, it is contended, she would have been compelled to awaken her husband, who slept on the outer side of the bed. He is expected to testify that she remained by his side all night.

The financial stress of the family, heavily in debt for their home, coupled with life insurance on the entire family in favor of the mother, is the motive for the deed as outlined by the prosecution.

POLICE CHARGE MOB

Mayor Orders Them to Fire and Three Drop Dead.

Rock Island, Ill., March 27.—Three persons were killed and nine injured in a riot which grew out of strained relations which have existed for several days between Mayor Schriver and some of his opponents.

Several hundred persons were in the mob that surrounded police headquarters, where two of the leaders of disorders that had previously occurred were detained.

Bricks were thrown and windows of the police station were smashed. Mayor Schriver, directing the police squad, ordered the officers to charge the mob. Shots were fired by the police and a number of men were seen to fall. Three men were picked up dead. Nine were so badly wounded they were hurried to a hospital.

Negro Mutineers Killed.

Memphis, Tenn., March 27.—A dozen negroes in the Memphis jail mutinied and, overpowering a guard, made a break for liberty. Jailer Buchanan killed Nell Trotter, one of the prisoners. The rest of the mutineers were driven back to their cells. Trotter was being held on a charge of murder.

Mitchell in Jail

Thomas Mitchell, arrested by stable Dawes of Perry township Monday, on information received by the Marysville authorities, is now in the jail at Marysville awaiting arraignment on a non-support charge.

Mitchell left his wife who is in the infirmary near Marysville in delicate condition.

BUILDING TO BE FOUR STORIES

Pythian Sisters
Will Hold BazarFirst Floor and Basement Will Extend to Alley While Remainder of Building Extends Back 90 Feet---Cost Will Be $40,000 to $50,000.Plans for the new Masonic Temple were approved by the Masonic Temple Company Tuesday night when Architect Howard, of Columbus, met with the company and submitted sketches of the new structure. Very few changes were made in the plans submitted, and the plans and specifications were ordered to be furnished and ready for receiving bids within in three weeks.The new Temple will be equal in beauty in every way to the one destroyed, and in many ways will be more attractive. It will consist of four stories and basement, the walls will be built of pressed brick. It will not be what is known as a fireproof building, but fire dangers will be brought down to the minimum.The front of the structure will be of attractive design. The arch will not be a feature of the building, and instead of one stairway entrance, there will be two, one at each side in front. Masonic emblems and decorations will embellish the front walls, and at the top the wall will rise in graceful curves with the highest point rounding in the center.The basement and first story will extend entirely to the alley, and in addition the basement will extend to the curb line under the sidewalk. The boiler and stack will be located about 90 feet from the front, along the alley. The basement room will be much more modern and better lighted than before.The second story will extend back 90 feet from the front, so that large sky lights in the remaining 70 feet to the alley will furnish ample light for the first floor, which will be occupied by F. L. Stutson. This will add greatly to the appearance of the interior of the store.Eight office rooms and two other large rooms will occupy the second story. Each of the rooms will make desirable quarters for professional men.On the third floor will be found the Masonic Lodge room and parlors. The lodge room will be 40 by 60 feet, and will be located in the west portion of the third floor, while three large parlors will occupy the front portion of the floor.Like the second and third stories, the fourth will extend back a distance of 90 feet from the front wall, and will consist of a large banquet hall, kitchens, and waiting rooms.The approximate cost of the structure will mean an outlay of $40,000 to $50,000. Within three weeks the company is desirous of having the plans and specifications ready to receive bids, and by the first of May actual work of rebuilding will probably commence, and by fall the skyline on Main street will once more tell the story of the business enterprise of Washington business men.Attempt Made

BUILDING TO BE FOUR STORIES

First Floor and Basement Will Extend to Alley While Remainder of Building Extends Back 90 Feet—Cost Will Be $40,000 to $50,000.

Plans for the new Masonic Temple were approved by the Masonic Temple Company Tuesday night when Architect Howard, of Columbus, met with the company and submitted sketches of the new structure. Very few changes were made in the plans submitted, and the plans and specifications were ordered to be furnished and ready for receiving bids within three weeks.

The new Temple will be equal in beauty in every way to the one destroyed, and in many ways will be more attractive. It will consist of four stories and basement, the walls will be built of pressed brick. It will not be what is known as a fire-proof building, but fire dangers will be brought down to the minimum.

The front of the structure will be of attractive design. The arch will not be a feature of the building, and instead of one stairway entrance, there will be two, one at each side in front. Masonic emblems and decorations will embellish the front walls, and at the top the wall will rise in graceful curves with the highest point rounding in the center.

The basement and first story will extend entirely to the alley, and in addition the basement will extend to the curb line under the sidewalk. The boiler and stack will be located about 30 feet from the front, along the alley. The basement room will be much more modern and better lighted than before.

The second story will extend back 90 feet from the front, so that large sky lights in the remaining 70 feet to the alley will furnish ample light for the first floor, which will be occupied by F. L. Stutson. This will add greatly to the appearance of the interior of the store.

Eight office rooms and two other large rooms will occupy the second story. Each of the rooms will make desirable quarters for professional men.

On the third floor will be found the Masonic Lodge room and parlors. The Lodge room will be 40 by 60 feet, and will be located in the west portion of the third floor, while three large parlors will occupy the front portion of the floor.

Like the second and third stories, the fourth will extend back a distance of 90 feet from the front wall, and will consist of a large banquet hall, kitchens, and waiting rooms.

The approximate cost of the structure will mean an outlay of $40,000 to $50,000. Within three weeks the company is desirous of having the plans and specifications ready to receive bids, and by the first of May actual work of rebuilding will probably commence, and by fall the skyline on Main street will once more tell the story of the business enterprise of Washington business men.

Washington C. H. Mch. 27:

The law requires that all articles commonly sold by dry measure shall weigh a certain number of pounds per bushel. We realize that there is only one just and equitable way of selling articles such as potatoes, apples, carrots, turnips, etc. That way is by weight.

In the future, all articles enumerated below, will be sold by weight. The price may be shown in terms of bushels or pecks as heretofore, but you will understand that in each and every instance you are receiving the full number of pounds per bushel, on scales tested by the county sealer.

In case our price seems a trifle high on any certain article, apples for instance, we would suggest that you find out whether you are buying by bulk measure or by weight. There will be a difference of from one and one-half to two pounds per peck.

As an example—a barrel of apples by weight will average about ten pecks. The same barrel of apples by dry measure will average about twelve pecks. You will therefore be paying about the same for apples weighed to you at 50c per peck, as you would for apples measured to you at 40c per peck.

The following table will give you an idea of weights of different articles in terms of bushels:

Apples—50 lbs.
Beans—60 lbs.
Beets—56 lbs.
Carrots—50 lbs.
Parsnips—50 lbs.
Onions—55 lbs.
Potatoes—60 lbs.
Potatoes, sweet—50 lbs.
Turnips—60 lbs.

Commission Government

TRIANGULAR DEBATE OF INTERSCHOLASTIC LEAGUE

AFFIRMATIVE NO. 3

By Davis Edwards

Mr. Chairman, Honorable Judges, Ladies and Gentlemen:

Efficiency and democracy are the true measures of good government. My colleagues have proven that the present system in Ohio is neither efficient nor democratic, and should therefore be abolished, and that the commission plan is both efficient and democratic because of the elimination of party and ward politics, and because responsibility has been concentrated by the short ballot. It remains for me to further establish the efficiency and democracy of the commission plan by proving the expert service, and economy gained both in legislative and administrative affairs, and the change in the relation of the citizen to his government.

Under the commission plan the legislative and administrative bodies are properly and unalterably connected. The city government is a government of details. This is true in legislation as well as in administration. All general provisions are made by the Ohio legislature or the national government, and it remains for the city to carry out affairs relating to business. President Elliott of Harvard, recognized this fact when he said that the work of the city council is not concerned with the far-reaching policies of legislation. There is no need for a separate legislative body. Dr. Albert Shaw says that so indistinguishably blended are the legislative and administrative departments of the city, that it is impossible to separate the one from the other.

In recognizing this fact the commission plan has gained another great advantage for the commission which meets in daily session, is composed of the heads of the various administrative departments, and can therefore be furnished immediately with any information required concerning the departments. This does away with useless boards and investigating committees, and secures dispatch and intelligent action in all legislative matters. Since the commissioners represent the entire city they will work with much greater unity, and thus be able to accomplish a greater amount and higher grade of work. This is well illustrated by a recent incident at Des Moines, Ia. For twenty years before the adoption of the commission plan the council of that city had attempted to force a railroad to construct a viaduct over one of the main streets, as the law required, and at the time the commission plan was adopted they were as far from success as ever. One month after the commissioners had taken charge of the railroads, employees were at work building the viaduct.

Administrative efficiency is one of the strongest points in favor of the commission plan, for it secures dispatch in business, stimulates civic interest, and secures economy. Every advantage is given the administrator, he is no longer interfered with by a meddling council who knows nothing of the needs of this department. He cannot plead unsatisfactory legislation nor ignorance of the laws for he has helped to make them. He cannot plead lack of responsibility for his duties are clearly defined, nor lack of power for he has entire control of his department.

Therefore, since all business transactions and all council meetings are made public if a fault is committed there is no place to hide. It must have resulted from his incompetency or neglect. Each commissioner is hired to take charge of the business of his department as a freight agent is hired to handle that department of a railroad. So long as his work is satisfactory to his employers—the people—well and good, when it is not, he is discharged. The commissioner receives a good salary and makes the affairs of his department his regular employment. Thus there is no delay for daily business is disposed of daily.

The commission plan succeeds with the city's financial problem because the same body of men is held responsible for the levying and collecting of taxes, and the spending of money. This is desirable because the administrative body since it uses the money knows accurately the city's need of revenue. A legislative body, whether a council or a board cannot know a city's needs for money without getting the fact from the administrative body. F. R. Clow says the council does not pretend to know the city's revenue problem, and that they adopt the recommendation of the administrative department. The negative's system of division of powers simply divides the responsibility between the legislative and administrative bodies for that done by the administrative department alone. Since the administrative department really dictates the budget, they should be responsible for it.

Therefore, the commissioners, knowing best what the budget should contain, since they are in touch daily with the city's revenue problem, is the body of men pre-eminently fitted to handle the city's budget.

The commission plan is adapted to the city's finances because it provides a superior safeguard. Legislative bodies in our cities have been depended upon to represent the citizens' best interest. In practice they have never done so. "Never in the history of our affairs," says Henry D. F. Baldwin, "has a legislative body stood out as representative of the people against the administrative department." Why then continue a representative body which does not in fact represent. Instead of a withered form of council standing between a citizen and his government the commission plan simply removes this useless obstacle, and allows the citizen to participate directly in governmental affairs.

Highly increased economy is the rule, and so far the invariable rule. The commission plan found Galveston bankrupt. Today her credit is above par, and the saving of one-third of the running expenses has been effected, and President Lutz of the University of Texas says, "In the first six years after the adoption of the commission plan the Galveston commissioners made public improvements to the amount of $600,000 and paid off a debt of $400,000 without issuing a bond, raising the tax rate or borrowing a dollar." Leavenworth, Kansas, lowered the city's expenses 25 per cent below the lowest expense for any year, under the old system in the city's history. The Forum for September, 1911, says the commission plan has cleared Des Moines of a powerful city hall gang of politicians, a police system levying blackmail on law-breakers, a vice district established and managed by a trust; poorly paved and badly lighted streets; bad management of all municipal affairs, and is today maintaining Des Moines at about one-half the former cost. From these statements which represent the effect of commission government in cities in general we see that it is highly efficient, and comparing it with the present system in Ohio it must be admitted that the commission form is preferable in Ohio because it has succeeded in eliminating elsewhere evils corresponding to those in this state. That government is most democratic which gives the most satisfaction to the people, and that government is most satisfactory in which the people may carry out their will most successfully. Such a government is the commission plan. For the people have direct control of affairs. Now, since the citizens know who is responsible for every civic function, and since they know every public act of every official it follows that if they have the means to control their public servants the government will be democratic, and as intelligent as the standard of citizenship.

This means of control is furnished by the civil service commission, the initiative, the referendum and recall. Since the people know the government is in their own hands, and that if corruption continues the blame rests with them alone, they have been found to take the time and trouble to keep informed on public affairs, a thing they have never done before.

No government can be successful unless the citizenship is good. But, should the citizenship be of a lower standard it will prove more able when plying the keen tool of commission government. Since the citizenship of our state has an excellent average we would undoubtedly gain under the commission plan that democracy and expert service so sadly lacking under the present system in Ohio.

The affirmative have established the following points:

First. That there is a positive need of change of municipal government in Ohio, because the present system is confused and irresponsible. It is inefficient and extravagant, and it is lacking in democracy.

Second. That the commission plan would give the desired results because it is simple, direct and responsible. It is efficient and economical, and it is highly democratic.

Strikes Blow At Magazine Men

The magazines of the country are spending hundreds of thousands, yes, millions of dollars exposing graft in said a word against the greatest graft of all, the second-class postage rate they enjoy," said President C. W. Burrows, of the National One-Cent Postage Association in a recent speech. He called attention to a large mimeograph letter sent through the mails at second-class rates, 80 of them for 1 cent, 160 of them being carried for what one letter of a business man would cost. In other words, information that would cost the business man of other lines $3.20 costs the magazine publisher but 2 cents.

Mr. Burrows used the old argument in favor of one-cent postage familiar to all. He appealed to business men who could cut their postage bills to from $200 to $10,000 in half by a one-cent rate, and he said the second class rate need not be disturbed now, but would have to be changed later on to adjust matters. He referred to President Taft as being a better president than his predecessor in office.

THE GAMBLERS

Charles Klein, the sensational success of whose epoch-making plays, "The Third Degree" and "The Lion and the Mouse," established him in the very forefront as a creator of accurate stage pictures of American life, will provide one of the real treats of the season for local theatergoers on Thursday, March 28 at the Empire, when his latest triumph, "The Gamblers" is given its initial presentation here, under the management of The Author's Producing Co.

"The Gamblers" comes to this city with the substantial endorsement of being the most popularly successful dramatic offering of the year in New York City, having enjoyed a record run of over 200 performances at Maxine Elliott's theater. Exacting metropolitan critics declared, with unusual unanimity, this drama to be the most powerful and appealing that has yet come from Mr. Klein's prolific pen, and the great vogue it enjoyed in New York has caused "The Gamblers" to be heralded throughout the land as the type of play that no lover of theatricals can afford to miss.

The local engagement of "The Gamblers" will be notable for the local appearance of one of the most uniformly excellent acting companies gathered in recent years, while the scenic investiture required for the setting of Mr. Klein's latest success, is of the standard of lavish magnitude which heretofore has not been attempted outside the largest cities.

Prayer Before Planting Trees

Lord, we are setting in this chosen ground. These tender nurslings, trusting in thy grace To cherish them through infancy, to guide Their tiny rootlets through the darksome earth, To lift their boughs to heaven, and give them power To yield their tribute unto grateful men In fruit or flower or shade. For who but thou, And thou alone, O God, amidst the gloom Of never ending night beneath the sod, Can weave the net-work of those fragile roots, And make their long antennae feel the way To nooks of moisture and fertility? And who but thou can pilot up the stem The warm sweet sap, like green blood making glad The veinlets of the utmost little twig?

And who but thou, O Lord, in mystic wise, With alchemy divine, can from the earth, This sordid earth, extract pure essences To paint the cheeks of blossoms, scent their breath, To swell the fruits with lusciousness, and make The leafy boughs one mass of heavenly green. Haunts for the song birds, cool retreats for men?

Yea, all these powers are thine. But on this day, In lowly imitation of thine own Parental care, we plant these infant trees To be a blessing in the far off years Unto our children and our children's children.

When we ourselves shall tread the earth no more, Unselfish in thy bounty, thou hast strewn Blessings around us, though partaking not

Thyself of that abundance which thy hand Alone created. In the by-gone years, To please us thou hast reared thy goodly trees, Glowing with fruitage, spreading green with shade, Or clustered with delightsome odorous blooms Shall we thy largess take with selfish ease, And not in some small way, though feeble, seek

To emulate thy goodness and bequeath Unto succeeding generations, gifts We never can share ourselves? O God of Love, Make us unselfish in this task our hearts Uplift, and move our hands to speed with joy

In this, our labor, whereby we shall seek To bless the lives of others yet to come.

When we ourselves have mingled with the dust Wherein we plant these trees From a "Prayer Before Planting Trees," by Walter Malone, in the April Scribner

TWO WOMEN FIGHT OVER A BUTTERFLY

Fashionable California Inn Scene of Fight Between Proprietor's Wife and Guest.

INSECT IS SKEWERED

Battle is Refereed by Young Son of One of the Contestants Who Afterward Remarked That "Ma Was Some Boxer and Got in Some Good Ones."

Oakland, Cal.—Over the quivering body of a dying butterfly Mrs. Henry Barker and Mrs. Ada D. Clement, both well known matrons in Oakland social circles, engaged in a hand to hand tussle in a room and hallway at the Key Route Inn the other day, which created a sensation among the guests and resulted in the police being called. The trouble arose when Mrs. Barker, wife of the proprietor of the hotel, insisted upon her right to impale an unusual specimen of genus lepidoptera with a pin, to the distress of the more merciful Mrs. Clement.

"Oh, that is cruel, cruel!" exclaimed Mrs. Clement. "Let us chloroform the little creature if you must have him for a collection."

"That is nonsense," responded Mrs. Barker, and without further comment she drew a long pin and skewered the rainbow winged flutterer and pinned him on the edge of a waste paper basket to meet his fate.

There was a scream, and Mrs. Clement made a dash for the basket, calling to Mrs. Barker to free the butterfly. Mrs. Barker retreated with her prize to the linen room of the hotel, followed by Mrs. Clement.

The altercation between the two women continued, Mrs. Clement asserting that Mrs. Barker had no right to pursue ruthlessly a butterfly into the room of a hotel guest and there impale its quivering body. Mrs. Clement demanded that the insect be freed, and when this was refused she is said by Mrs. Barker to have attempted to rescue the winged victim by force of arms.

A struggle ensued in which Mrs. Clement grasped Mrs. Barker by the shoulders and shook her forcibly. According to Cecil Clement, the seven-year-old son of one of the combatants, his mother showed cleverness and good staying powers in the encounter, boxing gracefully. The youth acted as referee and told of the experience with unquenchable glee afterwards.

"You're sure some boxer, ma," he said after the fray was over. "You got in several good ones. Go on and tell about it."

Mrs. Clement preserved a discreet silence, contenting herself with commenting upon Mrs. Barker's cruelty.

"She stuck the pin right through its body," she said. "It was a cruel act. I shall consult District Attorney Donohue about it, as he is my lawyer. There ought to be some law against such cruelty. I asked the police about it and Captain Lynch sent Patrolman Bock to the hotel with me that I might have no trouble in getting my trunk and other belongings. I am glad Mrs. Barker was reprimanded and I shall leave the place."

Oven Proves Poor Safe.

Vineland, N. J.—Mrs. M. McKeague, keeper of a boarding-house, put her pocketbook, containing more than $20, a new fountain pen, new gold locket and chain, four gold rings that had been left as security for board, insurance papers and other trinkets into the gas stove oven for safe keeping. After preparing dinner she opened the door to find all her treasures in ashes and molten ruins.

The fattest boy in the United Kingdom is Charles Sidney Watts, who recently came of age, in his native village of Woodchurch, near Ashford, Kent. When he first came before public notice, at the age of 15 years, Watts weighed 238 pounds. His weight has increased to a full 378 pounds. In spite of his great girth Watts is very active, and has good health, taking part in the usual work of his father's farm. As a youth he refused several offers to go on show.

NEXT LECTURE COURSE STRONGEST EVER SECURED

The Washington Lecture Course committee has closed the contract with the Coit Lyceum Bureau for next winter's lecture course.

Considering the past record of successful seasons, it seems an astonishing statement to say that the course of 1912 and 1913 will offer the strongest and best attractions ever presented to the Washington public, but that such is the case is the unanimous verdict of the committee.

It is a thousand dollar course and will bring to our local platform notables in the world of letters and artists in musical circles. While exceptionally high class it is also a popular course and its appeal to the public taste will evoke even more than the usual anticipation.

There will be eight numbers, including three brilliant lecturers, Dr. Russell H. Conwell, Dr. Newell Dwight Hillis, Ralph Parlette, three concerts, the Collegiate Quartet, Neapolitans, the Orphean Male Quartet, and two entertainers, the famous Leland T. Powers and Margaret Stahl.

FAVORS REDUCTIONS

President Urges Congress to Accept Tariff Board's Findings.

Washington, March 27.—The tariff board's report on the cotton schedule, which was transmitted to congress by President Taft, discloses facts which it is estimated warrant an average reduction of between 30 and 40 per cent from the present duties imposed on cotton manufactures.

The president in his special message recommends that congress proceed to a revision of this schedule on the basis of the board's finding.

The president in his message transmitting the report to congress asks for a deficiency appropriation of $60,000 to enable the tariff board to continue "its valuable work."

Aviator Instantly Killed.

Dusseldorf, March 27.—Aviator Kleine fell 400 feet here and was instantly killed.

Claims Federal Victory.

El Paso, Tex., March 27.—Don Alberto Madero, uncle of the president of Mexico, declared that the federalists had taken Jimenez from the rebels, ending a five-day battle. No advices have come over the Mexican telegraph line to Juarez from Jimenez.

The silence could be accounted for by the federalists driving the rebels out of Jimenez.

Trouble Occurs
On John Street

George Stolzenburg and Carey Stolzenburg, residents of John street, were arrested upon affidavits filed by James Estel, the former being charged with threatening Mrs. Estel and striking her, and the elder Stolzenburg for carrying concealed weapons.

Young Stolzenburg waived examination and was bound over to the Probate court, while Carey Stolzenburg waived examination and was bound over to the Grand Jury.

OHIO HAPPENINGS

Harmon List Completed.

Columbus, O., March 27.—Already 8,000 signatures to petitions to make Governor Harmon a candidate at the presidential preference primary have been obtained. This is 3,000 more than are needed. Aged Man Killed by Train.

Ashland, O., March 27.—After John Thomas Hider, 58, was struck by a locomotive on the Erie railroad here, he lived for half an hour, during which he regained consciousness just long enough to recognize his 3½-year-old granddaughter, "Honey," have you got a kiss for poor granddaddy?" he said. She kissed him, and with one gasp for breath he was dead.

Lives After Pronounced Dead.

Bellair, O., March 27.—John Kronske, a miner, paddling around on a raft in the flood stage in the Ohio river, went down and was rescued 15 minutes later. Manfield, O., March 27.—Colonel Theodore Roosevelt passed through here at 6:30 this morning on his way to Chicago, where he is to open his western lecture tour.

All-Run-Down and Generally Miserable

NEW TONIC TONA VITA IN USE AT HEALTH RESORTS FOR THIS TROUBLE.

If you are nervous and run-down with little vitality or ambition, and feel generally miserable and half-sick, you are suffering from nervous debility. If so you should investigate the new tonic "Tona Vita" and find out what a great record it has made since first introduced scarcely a year ago.

Do you know that "Tona Vita" is now pronounced by hundreds of physicians as the most remarkable tonic known. Do you know that "Tona Vita" is used in high-class sanitaria and health resorts as a nerve food and tonic? Do you know that during the past year more than fifty thousand people have stated over their own signatures that "Tona Vita" has completely restored their health?

Mr. James L. Hickey, of 289 North Division street, Buffalo, N. Y., the well known National League Umpire, is one of those. This is what he says:

"We have an agent in every city

"The nature of my profession frequently necessitated irregularity in sleeping and eating and as a result I became a victim of nervous debility. I had bad headaches and indigestion. My nerves troubled me also and I did not get sufficient rest from my sleep. I would become fatigued very easily and was almost prostrated by hot weather.

"I had tried other means to restore my normal condition when a friend suggested the tonic 'Tona Vita'. I took his advice and am glad of it. My appetite improved at once. and rates have been much harder to get since it was enacted than when the old rate of three cents a mile prevailed.

The former attempts to sicken people of the law failed utterly. The people went ahead paying two cents when they were compelled to ride and could not get a less rate. The result was a gradual loosening until practically all former excursions were permitted, excepting that it was difficult to get lower rates for small conventions.

It is thought that the present attempt, if such it is, will fall just as all others have. While summer resorts, bathing beaches, etc., will suffer greatly, the railroads will suffer just as much. And the public has the advantage in that if people do not ride around on Sunday excursions they will find ways to spend their money at home; the losses to businessmen by the new policy will be scattered, as a general rule, between many people, but the railroads must bear their losses alone. Their revenues will be reduced by thousands of dollars each year.

The people do not take the announcement very seriously, as they do not think the rule will last more than one season, if, indeed, it lasts through the entire season. It is expected that some road that "needs the money" will break over, and if it does of course, there will be a scramble by the other roads to follow.

More work is put upon naval guns in target practice each quarter than they were required to stand during the Spanish war.

The largest tree in the world lies broken and petrified at the end of a defile in Northwestern Nevada. It is said to be 666 feet long.

The Belgians are great pigeon breeders and one of the choicest birds of this kind is the true Antwerp carrier, which is comparatively rare.

There are more than 17,000 machine-tending operatives in Lowell, Mass., caring for 838,000 spindles and earning over $500,000 a month in wages.

In Chicago and New York, according to recent statistics, pneumonia has now superseded pulmonary tuberculosis as the cause of greatest mortality.

In commemoration of the Thirty Years' War the battlefield of Lutzen, where King Gustave Adolf of Sweden met his death, was turned into a public park.

That only through organization can the farmer get a square deal, or expect to accomplish through legislation anything to his benefit, was the main thought in an address, "The Political Situation From a Farmer's Standpoint," delivered by S. H. Shaw, at a recent meeting in Green county.

Mr. Shaw declared that the farmers must get together everywhere and organize the same as other business men, organize for their own benefit. He mentioned several advantages that the farmer should have and which were to be accomplished through legislation, among them a parcels post. He advocated the short ballot, and said that plan should work just as well in State as it does in National politics.

A squad of deputies acting under the new law endowing them with plenary powers, will be utilized by the marshal. Much attention will be devoted by Mr. Zuber and his men to those cities that did not receive their share of the department's attention during the past year.

The first six months of work under the law resulted in the demolition of more than 500 buildings, in a score of cities.

The present campaign, according to Mr. Zuber, will bring about the destruction of as many more.

He said in the larger cities there are thousands of buildings that menace the lives of the persons working in them.

lecting the box artist. When one works with a pitcher day in and day out he comes to know the occasions when he has the "stuff." The catcher realizes if his pitcher's ball isn't breaking right or if the fast ball hasn't the hop. Of course, a lot of flingers are slaughtered on their best days, but that is part of the game. In the long run it works out that the pitcher who is right on a certain day does better than a fellow who hasn't his best assortment of foolers.

No Excursions Due To Two-cent Fare

The move of the railroads to refuse to run Sunday excursions during the coming summer, and very few of any other kind of excursions, is said by those who claim to know, that it is but another attempt of Ohio railroads to make Ohio people sick of the two-cent fare law, and to force them to repeal it.

This is a repetition of former efforts along the same line, all of which thus far have failed. The reins of excursions were pulled very tight immediately following the passage of the law and soon have been much looser to get since it was enacted than when the old rate of three cents a mile prevailed.

The former attempts to slacken people of the law failed utterly. The people went ahead paying two cents when they were compelled to ride and could not get a less rate. The result was a gradual loosening until practically all former excursions were permitted, excepting that it was difficult to get lower rates for small conventions.

It is thought that the present attempt, if such it is, will fail just as all others have. While summer resorts, bathing beaches, etc., will suffer greatly, the railroads will suffer just as much. And the public has the advantage in that if people do not ride around on Sunday excursions they will find ways to spend their money at home; the losses to business men by the new policy will be scattered, as a general rule, between many people, but the railroads must bear their losses alone. Their revenues will be reduced by thousands of dollars each year.

The people do not take the announcement very seriously, as they do not think the rule will last more than one season, if, indeed, it lasts through the entire season. It is expected that some road that "needs the money" will break over, and if it does of course, there will be a scramble by the other roads to follow.

Curious Facts

More work is put upon naval guns in target practice each quarter than they were required to stand during the Spanish war.

The largest tree in the world lies broken and petrified at the end of a defile in Northwestern Nevada. It is said to be 666 feet long.

The Belgians are great pigeon breeders and one of the choicest birds of this kind is the true Antwerp carrier, which is comparatively rare.

There are more than 17,000 machine-tending operatives in Lowell, Mass., earning for $28,000 spindles and earning over $500,000 a month in wages.

In Chicago and New York, according to recent statistics, pneumonia has now superseded pulmonary tuberculosis as the cause of greatest mortality.

In commemoration of the Thirty Years' War the battlefield of Lutzen, where King Gustave Adolf of Sweden met his death, was turned into a public park.

Only a Few Now Left

We now have left only a few of the Webster New Revised Dictionaries, and when these are gone it will be impossible to get more. Don't allow yourself to be among those who will be disappointed. Just think of a handsome $3.00 newly revised, leather bound dictionary for $1.20. A chance of a life time. We will positively close out our stock in a short time.

Endless Chain Prayer Started

Chillicothe is being flooded with an "endless chain prayer" which bids to spread through the land. Superstitious persons keep the chain going, and the flood of post cards is causing the officials much extra work.

The queer message is headed "An Ancient Prayer" and reads:

"Oh Lord Jesus, I implore thee to bless all mankind and keep us from evil. Take us to live with thee in eternity."

Following the prayer comes the following explanatory note:

"This prayer was sent me and must be sent all over the world. Copy it and see what happens. It is said in Jesus' time that all who wrote it and memorized it would be delivered from all calamity and those who passed it by would meet with misfortune."

"Those who copy it within nine days of receiving it and send it to nine friends will on the ninth receive some reward, not noticeable perhaps at the time, but some fortune or something will befall them. Do not break the chain, sign no name, date only.

CATCHERS AS MANAGERS

Problem as to Why They Make Best Leaders Unsolved.

"Red" Doolin and Roger Bresnahan Do Not Find Duties Too Arduous to Prevent Them From Playing in Game.

Every year somebody rises to remark that the bench manager is superior to the man who directs his club's affairs from the field. You can prove this by several cases. You can prove it isn't so by just as many. Therefore, like the ancient query as to the Age of Ann, the answer is not yet.

But here is one line of dope you have some foundation to argue on: Catchers make good managers, whether they lead from bench or behind the bat. Of the 16 major clubs 6 of them are piloted by catchers or ex-catchers. Why the backstop should blossom forth as a manager isn't apparent, unless, perhaps, he has been so busy bossing the pitchers that the habit grows to include the entire club.

Two of the catcher-managers are actively engaged behind the bat and do not find their duties too laborious to prevent them from being top-notchers as participants. These two are Roger Bresnahan of the Cardinals and Red Doolin of the Phillies.

Cornelius McGillicuddy, when he lugged that impossible name into the big league, was a receiver of rare worth. The only reason he quit receiving was to become head of a club. His work with the Athletics has been a great accomplishment.

Frank Chance, termed the "Peerless Leader," when the Cubs were at the hey-day of their glory, started as a catcher. Then he went to first base, because there was nobody else on hand to occupy that position. Harry Davis also was a catcher, but gave it up to play at the initial station.

It is certain the catcher-manager who can warm up his own pitchers is going to have the inside track in selecting the box artist. When one works with a pitcher day in and day out he comes to know the occasions when he has the "stuff". The catcher realizes if his pitcher's ball isn't breaking right or if the fast ball hasn't the hop. Of course a lot of flingers are slaughtered on their best days, but that is part of the game. In the long run it works out that the pitcher who is right on a certain day does better than a fellow who hasn't his best assortment of foolers.

No ball club ever went very far without a star catcher, with the possible exception of the Detroit Tigers, and they possessed such an unusual array of hitting talent that they were exceptions to the rule. Lucky indeed is the club that has the manager in the strategic position behind the batter and able to do sterling yeoman duty in and day out.
